

PRESIDENT AND FIANCEE SEE PHILLES AND RED SOX MEET

Mayer and Foster Are Picked For Pitching Duty—Game Is Delayed Until Presidential Party Arrives at Grounds.

Crowd Cheers Executive and Prospective Bride at Second Game of World's Series—Both Teams Confident at Outset.

National League Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—President Wilson and his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, looked on while the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans came to grips today for the second battle of the world's baseball series before some 20,000 spectators. With one redoubt captured, the Philadelphiaans pressed on to make it two straight, while Manager Carrigan, leading the Boston Red Sox, started a counter aggressive to even up the series before the second phase of the campaign in Boston next week.

Thousands came early to see the game and before noon the field seats were filled and the crowd still coming and clamoring for admission. The reserve stands filled slowly though hundreds came long before game time to see President Wilson and his party on their arrival. The Presidential box near the Boston players' bench of third base, crowded with red, white and blue bunting and small American flags.

The playing field was in fine shape for fast play. The Philadelphiaans had brief morning practice and found the inner and outer gardens to their liking.

"We'll be in there today with some real hitting," said Captain Luderus, the Philadelphia first sacker, "and it doesn't matter much to us who goes to the mound for Boston."

Manager Carrigan had three pitchers ready to do his sharpshooting—Foster, Wood and Leonard. Chalmers and Mayer were fit for the firing line for the homefolk with the left hander, Edgar Rixey, held in reserve.

Both teams took plenty of batting practice and the crowd was growing. The batteries: Mayer and Burns, for Philadelphia; Foster and Thomas, for Boston.

Rigler gave decisions on balls and strikes. Evans, on a double, while O'Loughlin went to left field and Klem to right field.

At 2 p. m. the president and his party had not arrived and the umpires held up the play until they could reach the park. Meanwhile the players of both clubs grouped themselves back of the photographers to welcome President Wilson. Some one cried that the president was coming and the thousands quickly stood up while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." After a few minutes Mayor Blankenburg, with his party arrived.

Two scores of moving picture men and photographers arranged themselves in front of the presidential box waiting for President Wilson and his party who arrived at 2:05.

The crowd rose and cheered and President Wilson bowed to the ball players and then shook hands with Mayor Blankenburg. President Wilson and Mrs. Galt were given a continuous ovation. President Baker, of the Philadelphia club office, welcomed the president, who then gave a new ball to throw out into the field. The ball was then returned by Umpire Rigler to the president.

TURK GETS POWER OF ATTORNEY UPON YARD-LONG SCROLL

Dispute Over Stories Told By Persons Interested In $500 Estate

A power-of-attorney document a yard long and 18 inches wide was submitted to Judge Miller in the probate court today by Demetrios Kavafis, who desires to exercise control of the disposition of the estate of his cousin, Costos Popodiniel.

The latter was a native of Kirk Killis, Turkey, and while in the employ of the American Tube & Stamp Co. was killed on the tracks of the New Haven road, assisting in shunting cars along the industrial railroad from the East End plant of Pope's company to the tracks of the railroad company, in Crescent avenue.

Popodiniel was killed in December, 1913. It was represented at that time that he left a wife, Marie, and five children, living in Turkey. The late Judge Hallen, before whom the case came for administration, named Attorney T. M. Cullinan administrator of the estate. Attorney Cullinan has recently procured a settlement between the railroad company and the A. T. & S. Co. whereby they would pay $500 damages.

Today Kavafis, who originally agreed to the appointment of Attorney Cullinan as administrator, appeared before Judge Miller and declared he did not know what he was signing when he agreed to the appointment. He also declared that Popodiniel has no widow or children in Turkey, Kavafis represents, in the power of attorney which he presented today, that Popodiniel's father, Athallassion Popodiniel, living at Killista, Turkey, is the sole heir. The document which he presented to Judge Miller is written on parchment and accompanied by an English translation written on foolscap paper. It carries more than a score of seals and endorsements from Turkish officials and from the United States consul general at Constantinople.

Kavafis told Judge Miller that it cost him $100 to get the power of attorney and that he had to go to Turkey to get it. War conditions, he alleges, have made it more difficult for him to secure the document.

Judge Miller said that he will start an investigation in an effort to determine which of Kavafis' stories is true before making any decision. The names and cities on the Turkish document do not correspond to those given when papers of administration were first asked.

The payment of the $500 will be withheld by the corporations with whom Attorney Cullinan has been negotiating and the new turn in the situation may cause their lawyers to withdraw their offer and take the matter into the courts for settlement.

Anselma Burciff, 129 Willard street, taken from the U. M. C. Co. factory to Bridgeport hospital, yesterday, following an explosion in the priming room, will recover. At the hospital today it was said that she showed marked improvement during the night.

HELEN A. KELLER WILL SPEAK HERE UPON "HAPPINESS"

Contemporary Club Members Will Have Noted Blind and Deaf Person

Miss Helen Adams Keller, who is one of the most noted blind and deaf persons that ever lived, will address the members of the Contemporary club at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Godfrey, at Brooklawn park Tuesday evening, October 19, at 8:15 o'clock. This will be the first meeting of the season of the literary club. "Miss Keller will talk on 'Happiness.'" She will be accompanied by Mrs. John Macy, her teacher and companion for many years, who will tell the story of her development.

Miss Keller was born in Tuscumbia, Ala., in 1880. When scarcely two years old she was deprived of sight and of hearing by an attack of scarlet fever. Miss Anne M. Sullivan, later Mrs. Macy, a graduate of the Perkins Institution, Boston, was obtained by Miss Keller's parents to teach her in her home.

An exact record of her education was never kept, but under Miss Sarah Fuller at the Horace Mann school in New York, and at the Wright Humanitarian school, she not only learned to read and write, but became proficient to an exceptional degree in the ordinary educational curriculum. In 1900 she entered Radcliffe college and successfully passed the examinations in mathematics and other subjects for her degree of A. B. In 1904, Mrs. Macy, whose ability as a teacher must be considered almost as marvelous as the talent of her pupil, was, throughout the entire schooling her devoted companion.

The case of Miss Keller is considered the most extraordinary ever known in the education of blind and deaf persons. Her acquisitions, including several languages and her general culture are exceptionally wide.

She is the author of "The Story of My Life," "Optimism," and "The World I Live In," all of which from a literary standpoint are highly rated.

PRESIDENT BUYS BETROTHAL RING FOR HIS FIANCEE

Mrs. Galt Wears Diamond to World's Series Game In Philadelphia.

COUPLE KEEP BUSY ON SHOPPING TOUR

Spend Two Hours in New York Stores Before Leaving for Baseball Park.

New York, Oct. 9.—President Wilson and his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, and their party, left in a private car at 11 o'clock today for Philadelphia, where they will attend the world's series baseball game this afternoon.

Coming down Fifth avenue the President's car turned off to go to the Pennsylvania station.

Mrs. Galt was splendidly attired today in a new gown and fur trimmed hat of black and wore a large bouquet of red roses, a gift from the President.

While they were in New York, President Wilson, through a member of his party, purchased a solitary diamond ring for Mrs. Galt and today she wore it proudly.

Despite the late hour at which the President and members of his party retired last night they were up early today. The President had breakfast at the home of Col. E. M. House, while Mrs. Galt, her mother, Mrs. W. H. Bolling, and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, the President's cousin, breakfasted together in Mrs. Galt's suite in a downtown hotel.

The President and Mrs. Galt met at 9 o'clock and spent the remaining two hours of their stay here in the shopping district.

Both President Wilson and Mrs. Galt received scores of telegrams of congratulation at breakfast. Many of these were from foreign countries.

When Mrs. Galt arose today she found in her suite a large bouquet from President Wilson. A box in the center of the grand stand at the National league grounds in Philadelphia has been reserved for the President and his party. President Wilson will throw out the first ball used in today's game.

Immediately after the game the party will return to Washington in a special train.

Cheered at Ball Park. Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—President Wilson, came to Philadelphia from New York with his fiancée to witness the second game of the world's series.

The reception given them here was even warmer than they received in New York. They were greeted by cheering thousands of people at the Broad street station as they arrived and were given a continuous ovation on the way to National League Park. The president and his party were met here by Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo, the latter the youngest daughter of President McAdoo, E. T. Brown, of Atlanta, Ga., and the Misses Smith, cousins of the president.

The president and Mrs. Galt took much amusement in reading newspaper accounts of the trip to New York. He escorted Mrs. Galt to the presidential box at the ball park and their appearance as the signal for a tumult of cheers and handclapping. The president rose, took off his hat and bowed smiling to the crowd.

ASKS FIVE NEW POSTAL CLERKS FOR THIS CITY

Postmaster Greene Wants More Help Immediately, He Tells Superiors.

Postmaster Greene asked the post-office department today for the immediate addition of five new clerks to his staff. This is to meet the increased business which the local office has been taking care of for the last few months. No new clerks have been appointed since 1913 and the postmaster is confident of having no trouble in procuring the addition. The appointments will be made from a list of eligibles from which the substitute clerks are chosen.

The postmaster has already appointed one temporary clerk, Cornelius J. Bolster, and has nine substitute clerks working to handle the great amount of mail which now comes daily through the office. In all there are 72 regular clerks in the office.

A general survey of the office will be made sometime next month after which new carriers will be appointed. At present there are 32 substitute clerks being employed.

KIRK LIKELY TO BE NOMINEE OF THE DEMOCRATS

Plumbing Contractor and Town Chairman Lavery Are Mentioned.

LAVERY NOT IN RECEPTIVE MOOD

Commission Plan League Has Several Candidates Under Consideration.

As possible nominees for mayor in the Democratic town committee, and has been frequently mentioned.

Mr. Kirk is a contracting plumber, the head of a company which does a large business. He was formerly connected with the board of contract and supply, and also served as a member of the committee which formulated the commission government plan.

Mr. Lavery is chairman of the Democratic town committee, and has been chiefly responsible for the harmony plan, which has been so potent in uniting the severed elements of his party.

It is said that Mr. Kirk might be induced to take the nomination, especially if it came unanimously. Mr. Lavery, however, is said not to be in a receptive mood, deeming that his work in the interest of solidarity requires that he should retain his post as town chairman and give his support to some candidate who cannot be regarded as in any degree factional.

The Commission Government League, it was said, this afternoon, has about determined to put a ticket into the field. Among possible candidates to head it are mentioned William E. Burnham, Charles D. Davis and W. K. Mollan.

Mr. Burnham and Mr. Davis are Republicans. Mr. Mollan is a Democrat. They are all well known men, and the league feels that any of them would make a strong candidate.

Mr. Davis was formerly president of the Bridgeport Business Men's association and has been actively interested in the commission movement.

ITALIANS TO MAKE SPECIAL EFFORT TO ASSIST RED CROSS

Usual Gaiety For Columbus Day Supplanted by Worthy Enterprise.

Special efforts in behalf of the Red Cross Italy will be made by Italian speaking citizens of Bridgeport as a celebration of Columbus Day this year. In the belief that no more worthy testimonial to the famed discoverer than the aid of the suffering, especially to the relief of those suffering in Italy, from the effects of the war, representative citizens of Bridgeport who are of Italian birth, will contribute, as much as they are able, to the aid of war sufferers.

Besides this, the day will be generally observed by persons of that nationality in this city. The holiday is made more than by donating generously to the relief of those suffering in Italy, from the effects of the war, representative citizens of Bridgeport who are of Italian birth, will contribute, as much as they are able, to the aid of war sufferers.

A parade will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Louis Richards will be grand marshal. Several thousand persons, representing various societies, will be in line and the parade will take in the principal streets of the East Side, the main streets on the West Side and some of the less-used, though cosmopolitan districts besides.

It was at first thought, that because of the war, the parade would not be held. Thomas Savino, president of the Columbus societies, said, however, today, that plans are being made rapidly and that it will be known next week how many march and what features will mark the parade.

Observances will be held in some of the public schools. Particularly interesting will be the dramatization of Columbus' struggles to get recognition for his plans, his return from America and other incidents in his career, at the Grand street and Columbus schools. Miss Euphrosyne Bown, principal of the school, is directing the playlets, which have been practised several months, and in which the children are taking great interest.

On the evening of Columbus Day, a dance will be held by Italian citizens in "Eagles" hall. Further, a banquet will be held by 100 or more persons at an Italian restaurant.

The local custom house and the department of internal revenue will be closed all day on Columbus Day.

AGED WOMAN IS FOUND DROWNED IN PEQUONNOCK

Boys Rowing Past Foot of Nichols Street Discover Unknown Corpse

The body of an elderly woman, often seen upon the streets of Bridgeport, was found head down and partly submerged in the Pequonnock river at the foot of Nichols street at 8:30 this morning when Ernest Noel, 132 Nichols street, and Robert Riley, 2057 Main street, two year-old boys, were rowing out to the harbor.

The body of the woman was removed to the city morgue at Cullinan & Mullins' undertaking parlors. Layr John Ellsworth, a night watchman at the new factory construction of the Ashcroft Manufacturing Co., Kosuth and Nichols street, recalled having seen a woman whom he believed to be identified with the drowned woman wandering aimlessly about the neighborhood late last night. About 11 o'clock he spoke to her and counseled her to seek for her home.

Several who viewed the remains believe the woman has been a familiar figure about the streets. She was a slight woman, about five feet four inches in height, with sharp features and Roman nose. She weighs 95 pounds. Her hair is extremely long, turning from gray to extreme white. She wore a plain gold bar pin and gold wedding ring. She was dressed in a brownish colored chinchilla coat, blue skirt, brown stockings and black slippers. A black straw hat with blue ribbons was found on the bank near the body.

It is the belief that, like several others who have seen the illuminated sign of a large hostelry across the waters, the woman, in her bewildered condition, walked off the river bank.

BULGARIA PROTESTS TO GREECE

Landing of French and British Troops at Salonika Contrary to Recently Expressed Attitude, Says Premier.

Will Not Be Responsible Unless There Is Immediate Change, Note Avers—Two British Vessels Sunk By Blockaders.

London, Oct. 9.—Strong representations are said by the Central News to have been made by Bulgaria to Greece against the landing of French and British troops at Salonika.

The despatch to the Central News forwarded from its correspondent at Sofia, says that Premier Radolovoff informed the Greek minister that the landing of allied troops at Salonika was not in harmony with the attitude of the Greek government toward Bulgaria as recently expressed.

The premier added that if the attitude of Greece was not altered the Bulgarian cabinet could not be responsible for a change in the feelings of the Bulgarian people. The Bulgarian minister at Athens is said to have been instructed to make representations to the Greek government.

BRITISH SHIPS SUNK

London, Oct. 9.—The British steamers Silverstar, 3,573 tons gross and Scawby, 3,658 tons, have been sunk.

There are no records of the recent movements of these vessels.

BULGARIA'S DECLARATIONS OF WAR NOW AWAITED

London, Oct. 9.—Although the last 24 hours brought no climax in the swiftly changing political situation in the Balkans, London begins to view it in clearer perspective. The departure of the quadruple entente publicists has given liberty to Bulgaria's commitment to the side of the central powers, but as yet there has been no formal declaration of war between Bulgaria and Serbia or the allies. Excepting an unconfirmed report of a Russian bombardment of the Bulgarian coast near Varna, no overt act of hostilities has been committed by Bulgaria or her new opponents. Nevertheless, Bulgaria is reported to be preparing a flank attack on Serbia, carried out in conjunction with the Austro-German invasion. She is concentrating cavalry, supported by heavy artillery under German command.

According to official Serbian advice the Austro-German attack has not won much of an initial success, the invaders have to take the line in crossing the Save and now being pinned to the brink of the river. Many Germans are among the prisoners and some of them are said to be members of a Prussian brigade which formerly was operating against Italy.

There still remains a slight element of doubt as to the attitude of Greece, which probably will not be dispelled until the new cabinet makes definite pronouncement regarding Italy. In the meantime the entente powers appear to be satisfied with assurances of continued neutrality.

Russia has made official announcement of the sinking of a German transport by a British submarine in the Baltic.

The Dvinsk front still claims great attention in the eastern fighting zone. The Germans are now launching an attempt to take the city and on the north and their onslaught exceeds in violence the previous attacks from the west and south. A desperate action has been fought ten miles north of Dvinsk and the Russians admit loss of part of their trenches. From Dvinsk to the Lida-Molodechno railroad local successes are claimed by the Russians. On the rest of the eastern front the rapidity of attacks and counter-attacks, the capture and re-capture of trenches leaves it in doubt which side is really on the offensive.

German artillery fire continues along the whole of the western front, being directed with particular violence against Loos in a determined effort to regain the position and against the left wing of the attacking French forces in Champagne.

SHELL FISH BOARD BEGINS INSPECTING OYSTER BEDS HERE

Commission Comes Here In Fast Yacht Lucile—May End Dispute.

Inspection of local oyster beds by the Connecticut Shell Fish commission is being made today by commissioners who arrived in these waters upon the fast motor yacht Lucile.

The inspection of oyster beds is made regularly and it is believed that the present visit to Bridgeport and vicinity has to do with the "sett" rather than the settlement of disputes between the natural growers and the growers.

The Lucile is a fast yacht built, motor driven vessel, fitted with commodious cabins and all equipment necessary to surveying and oyster dredging.
